Fund Objective

The Barita Unit Trusts FX Income Accumulator Portfolio is a pooled fund that enables investors to group their savings in a common fund with the aim of earning in US dollars. It also allows investors to take advantage of investment opportunities in a wide variety of instruments that would not normally be available to them as individual investors. The Portfolio is US$ denominated with investments in foreign-currency interest-bearing instruments. The focus of the portfolio is investments in fixed income securities that have high credit quality and have relatively low duration. This investment focus naturally reduces the risk of the portfolio.

Why Invest in the Fund?

Global fixed income remains volatile as U.S. inflation cooled, with July CPI at 3.4% year-on-year after 4.2% in May. The Fed held rates at 3.50%–3.75% on July 29, although three hawkish dissents kept policy uncertainty elevated. Oil near US$84 and unresolved Middle East risks continue to affect yields. Major central banks remain divergent as domestic inflation and growth paths differ. In this setting, yields may stay choppy but less one-sided, favouring selective opportunities. The fund will remain prudent, emphasizing high-quality issuers, disciplined duration management and selective fixed income positioning.
